Terms of Use

Effective date: July 18, 2026

Operator: Solten Ventures, LLC, doing business as DueCap

This policy applies to duecap.com and related pages operated by DueCap.

1. Agreement to these Terms

These Terms of Use (the "Terms") govern your access to and use of duecap.com, any pages or materials made available through the site, and communications initiated through the site (collectively, the "Site"). The Site is operated by Solten Ventures, LLC, doing business as DueCap ("DueCap," "we," "us," or "our").

By accessing or using the Site, you agree to these Terms. If you do not agree, do not use the Site. If you use the Site on behalf of an organization, you represent that you have authority to bind that organization, and "you" includes that organization.

2. What the Site provides

The Site provides information about DueCap and its Investment Screening Brief research service. It may also provide sample reports, articles, frameworks, and a way to contact us or request a briefing.

The Site is informational. A request, email, document submission, or other communication does not create a client, advisory, fiduciary, partnership, agency, or other professional relationship. Any paid or confidential engagement is governed by a separate written agreement. If that agreement conflicts with these Terms, the separate agreement controls for that engagement.

3. No investment or professional advice

DueCap prepares research materials to help investors organize information, identify issues that merit attention, and prepare for conversations with founders. DueCap does not make investment decisions, recommend securities, score or certify companies, predict outcomes, or replace an investor's independent judgment and due diligence.

Nothing on the Site or in any sample material is investment, securities, legal, tax, accounting, audit, valuation, or other regulated professional advice. Nothing is an offer to sell, a solicitation of an offer to buy, or a recommendation concerning any security or transaction. DueCap is not acting as a broker-dealer, investment adviser, placement agent, law firm, accounting firm, or fiduciary through the Site.

You are responsible for your own analysis and decisions and should consult appropriately qualified advisers before acting on information relating to an investment, company, transaction, or legal obligation.

4. Requests and submitted materials

You may contact DueCap and may choose to submit pitch decks, financial statements, cap tables, bank statements, or other materials (“Submitted Materials”). Do not submit materials unless you are authorized to disclose them to DueCap for the requested purpose.

Your responsibility. You represent that your Submitted Materials and our permitted use of them do not violate law, contractual obligations, confidentiality duties, privacy rights, intellectual property rights, or the rights of any person or organization.

Restricted information. Do not send passwords, private keys, authentication credentials, Social Security numbers, government identification numbers, full payment-card data, protected health information, or other information that is unnecessary for the requested screening work. If a document contains unnecessary sensitive information, redact it before sending.

Permission to process. You grant DueCap a limited, non-exclusive right to receive, store, reproduce, organize, analyze, and otherwise process Submitted Materials only as reasonably necessary to evaluate your request, communicate with you, perform an agreed engagement, protect the service, and comply with law. You retain ownership of your Submitted Materials.

No obligation to accept. DueCap may decline a request or ask for additional information. Submission does not guarantee availability, completion, timing, or any particular result.

5. Acceptable use

You may use the Site only for lawful purposes and in accordance with these Terms. You may not interfere with the Site, attempt unauthorized access, introduce malicious code, bypass access or security controls, scrape or harvest content at scale, misrepresent your identity or authority, use the Site to infringe another person’s rights, or use DueCap materials to train or benchmark a model or competing service without written permission.

6. DueCap content and intellectual property

The Site and its content, including the DueCap name, methodology descriptions, report structures, templates, frameworks, text, graphics, branding, and sample materials, are owned by DueCap or its licensors and are protected by intellectual property and other laws.

Subject to these Terms, DueCap grants you a limited, revocable, non-exclusive, non-transferable license to view the Site and download publicly offered samples for your own internal evaluation. You may not copy, adapt, publish, distribute, sell, sublicense, remove notices from, create derivative works from, or commercially exploit DueCap content without prior written permission, except where applicable law expressly permits it.

“DueCap” and related names, logos, and marks may not be used without prior written permission. No license is granted by implication.

7. Sample briefs and fictional examples

Public sample briefs may be fictional, anonymized, altered, or assembled solely to demonstrate format and approach. They do not describe an available investment opportunity and should not be treated as factual information about any person or company. Results, scope, and presentation may differ in an actual engagement depending on the source materials and agreed work.

8. Feedback

If you voluntarily provide comments or suggestions about the Site or DueCap materials, you allow DueCap to use that feedback without restriction or compensation. This does not give DueCap ownership of your Submitted Materials or confidential business information.

9. Third-party sites and services

The Site may link to third-party websites, email services, document viewers, or other services. DueCap does not control and is not responsible for their content, availability, security, or privacy practices. Your use of a third-party service is governed by that provider’s terms and policies.

10. Privacy

Our Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, disclose, and retain personal information. By using the Site, you acknowledge the practices described in that policy.

11. Disclaimers

TO THE MAXIMUM EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, THE SITE AND ALL PUBLIC CONTENT ARE PROVIDED “AS IS” AND “AS AVAILABLE.” DUECAP DISCLAIMS ALL EXPRESS, IMPLIED, AND STATUTORY WARRANTIES, INCLUDING WARRANTIES OF ACCURACY, COMPLETENESS, MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE, TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, QUIET ENJOYMENT, AND RESULTS.

DueCap does not warrant that the Site will be uninterrupted, secure, error-free, or free of harmful components, or that any information will remain current. Information about early-stage companies and investments is inherently incomplete and may change quickly. You assume the risk of relying on Site content.

12. Limitation of liability

TO THE MAXIMUM EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, DUECAP AND ITS OWNERS, OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES, CONTRACTORS, AGENTS, AND LICENSORS WILL NOT BE LIABLE FOR ANY INDIRECT, INCIDENTAL, SPECIAL, EXEMPLARY, CONSEQUENTIAL, OR PUNITIVE DAMAGES; LOSS OF PROFITS, REVENUE, DATA, GOODWILL, OR BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY; INVESTMENT LOSS; OR COST OF SUBSTITUTE SERVICES, ARISING FROM OR RELATED TO THE SITE OR THESE TERMS, EVEN IF ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

TO THE MAXIMUM EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, THE TOTAL LIABILITY OF DUECAP AND THE OTHER PARTIES LISTED ABOVE FOR ALL CLAIMS ARISING FROM OR RELATED TO THE SITE OR THESE TERMS WILL NOT EXCEED ONE HUNDRED U.S. DOLLARS (US $100). These limitations do not apply where liability cannot lawfully be limited or excluded. A separate engagement agreement may establish different terms for paid services.

13. Indemnification

You will defend, indemnify, and hold harmless DueCap and its owners, officers, employees, contractors, and agents from claims, damages, liabilities, judgments, losses, and reasonable costs arising from your Submitted Materials, your violation of these Terms, your unlawful use of the Site, or your infringement of another party's rights. This obligation does not apply to the extent a claim results from DueCap's own unlawful conduct.

14. Suspension and termination

DueCap may suspend or terminate access to the Site, remove content, or decline communications when reasonably necessary to protect DueCap, users, third parties, or the integrity of the Site, or when these Terms are violated. Provisions that by their nature should survive termination will survive, including intellectual property, disclaimers, limitations of liability, indemnification, and dispute provisions.

15. Governing law and disputes

These Terms are governed by the laws of the State of California, without regard to conflict-of-law principles. Any dispute arising from or relating to the Site or these Terms must be brought exclusively in the state or federal courts located in Santa Clara County, California, and each party consents to their personal jurisdiction and venue. Nothing in this section prevents either party from seeking urgent injunctive relief in a court of competent jurisdiction to protect confidential information or intellectual property.

16. Changes to these Terms

We may update these Terms from time to time. The revised version will be posted on the Site with a new effective date. Changes apply prospectively when posted unless a later date is stated. Your continued use of the Site after the effective date means you accept the revised Terms.

17. General terms

These Terms and the Privacy Policy are the complete agreement concerning use of the Site, except for any separate written agreement that applies to a DueCap engagement. If any provision is unenforceable, it will be modified to the minimum extent necessary and the remaining provisions will continue in effect. A failure to enforce a provision is not a waiver. You may not assign these Terms without our written consent; DueCap may assign them in connection with a reorganization, merger, sale, or transfer of the Site or business.
